Plan now to attend the National Correct Coding Initiative (NCCI) Workshop

HP Enterprise Services has scheduled an informational training session to acquaint providers with the National Correct Coding Initiative (NCCI) implementation coming in October 2010! The workshop will be October 8, 2010, from 10 a.m. to noon, and will be presented via HP Virtual Room (Web site) combined with an audio conference phone number. Participants will learn how NCCI editing affects the way they code their claims. Participants will also learn the correct usage of certain modifiers that are key to NCCI editing. This session is ideal for billing employees for all physician specialties. Sign up now – participants are limited to 150.

By participating in training via Virtual Room, providers do not need to leave their offices for important training. Office staff can simply log on to the Virtual Room and dial in to the conference line.

Correction to BR201032 regarding Supartz injection J7321

The information in this banner supersedes the information in BR201032, dated August 10, 2010, regarding a rate change for J7321 – Hyaluron or Derivative, Hyalgon or Supartz, for intra-articular injection, per dose. The dates in the earlier article were incorrect. The correct dates for the reimbursement rate of $136.50 are May 1, 2010, to June 30, 2010; not July 31, 2010, as was previously communicated. Due to the 2010 third-quarter update, the reimbursement rate is $145.95 for claims with dates of service on or after July 1, 2010.
